Middle-aged Men
There are many at the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. DR. SPINNEY will Guarantee a Perfect Cure in such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs. Address Box 623 Portland Or.

Colored Men in the South Receive Good Wages as much as White Men

CHATTANOOGA, [illegible] Oct. [illegible] Hon. [illegible] Blaine [illegible] speech at Pittsburg yesterday referred to Chattanooga as a point in the South where colored laborers are paid 50 and 60 cents a day. The Daily Times, commenting on this speech, says: Careful investigation reveals the fact that the lowest wages paid to colored laborers in any industry is 90 cents per day, and this rate covers only a few at the South Tredegar iron works. The greater number of colored men at these works receive wages running from $1 to $2 per day, with a large number at intermediate rates of $1 [illegible] $1 50 per day. In every case where skilled colored men are employed as heaters, puddlers, helpers, etc., they get exactly the same wages as white men doing the same work. Colored laborers at the Chattanooga furnaces get $1 25, $1 50 and $2 per day, according to the skill, responsibility, etc., required to fill the various places in which they work. These are representative Southern industries. What we say of Chattanooga in this regard applies to Birmingham, Knoxville and other places. Colored boys in the South Tredegar nail works working as feeders make from 75 cents to $1 25 per day, according to skill and industry displayed in their labor. Some colored men make as high as $4 per day as puddlers and foundrymen in this section. We may say generally that the scale runs from $1 to $1 50 for the great mass of colored men working in Southern manufactories.

KILLED BY AN EXPLODING SHELL

Lieut. Metcalf and a Private Soldier the Victims of an Experiment.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., Oct. 21.—The ordnance board fired a twelve-inch mortar this forenoon. The charge was [illegible] pounds of powder and shells loaded with sand. This afternoon the shells were to be loaded with powder. One shell was filled by a soldier named Joseph King, and First Lieut. Wm. M. Metcalf superintended the work. After filling the next shell and screwing in the plug it exploded, blowing the soldier to pieces and fatally injuring Metcalf, who lived but about half an hour. His body was fearfully mangled, while that of King was picked up in pieces in the vicinity. The clothes of both caught fire. Several others were slightly injured and temporarily lost their hearing. As about ten or twelve persons were near the shell when it exploded, it is a wonder that more were not killed, as fragments of the shell flew in every direction.

It is surmised that some grains of powder lodged in the thread of the hole in the shell, and the plug, being screwed in, brought about the explosion. This is the first fatal accident which has happened during the last twelve years, the length of time that the ordnance board has been testing guns here. Many guns have burst, but no one was ever injured by such an explosion before.

THE EASTERN QUESTION

THE REPORT OF CADBAN [illegible]

NEW YORK, Oct. [illegible]—Thomas Power O'Connor cables from London to the Star: The indication that Turkey and Russia appear to be negotiating on a basis of some sort of joint occupation of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia is partially confirmed by dispatches from Sofia. Cadban Effendi, who was sent by the Sultan some time ago as special commissioner to Roumelia, was represented to the powers as a man peculiarly fitted to circumvent Russian tactics, whereas he had a reputation among leading diplomats in Europe of being an enthusiastic friend of Russia. It was pointed out later by anti-Turkish officials in Bulgaria that he had been ordered [illegible] to be dismissed in disgrace for his leanings towards the Russians. Now the [illegible] that he is in full accord with his sovereign and [illegible] the Sultan [illegible] thrown overboard the Anglo-Turkish alliance [illegible] entered into an offensive and defensive [illegible] with Russia. ATTEMPT TO BURN A BRIDGE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—An attempt was made to burn the Southern Pacific's bridge over the Los Angeles river near Downey. The incendiaries, who are not known, piled up some railroad ties on the bridge and set them on fire, but before the flames had done much damage the fire was extinguished by a gang of section men who chanced to be passing on a hand car. It is supposed to be the work of some residents along the river who think that the embankments which form the approaches to the bridge act as a dam and cause the overflow of their lands.

THE TIMBER CULTURE LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. [illegible]—Judge Bradford of the U. S. land office this city has rendered a decision in the case of Palmer vs. Carter, involving the character of a quarter section of land near San Miguel, San Luis Obispo county. The judge decides that land to be subject to the timber culture law must be such as is contemplated by the United States statutes, viz.: prairie land, or land containing no timber whatever. In this case the tract in dispute had a small number of trees upon it.

IRRIGATION

[illegible] of desert lands and irrigation the [illegible] says Arizona contains nearly 114,000 [illegible] miles, or about 73,000,000 acres of land. [illegible] 8,000,000 acres are utilized for stock raising [illegible] graze nearly 1,000,000 head of cattle, more than [illegible] sheep, besides horses, mules and other domestic animals. Nutritious grass grows everywhere, and could the balance of the land adapted to grazing be utilized for that purpose this would become the greatest stock raising country in the United States. Want of water is the only drawback to its occupation and development. For the most part these [illegible] that water reservoirs can be constructed [illegible] preserve water from the rains of summer and the snows of winter for the use of herds of cattle and other stock. Of the remaining 60,000,000 acres which are mainly agricultural, two-thirds are arable could they be irrigated. Of these 1,000,000 acres can be reclaimed by judicious appropriation and distribution of the present water supply.

The governor requests that congress be asked to demonstrate by scientific survey and practical test the feasibility of artesian wells for giving the needed supply of water, and adds: "Around Denver a well irrigates from forty to fifty acres. If half as good results could be obtained in Arizona we could produce wine, raisins, fruits, nuts and olives enough to support in affluence a population of [illegible] 000,000 people."

The governor in conclusion predicts that the removal of the Apaches from the territory will [illegible] the population and resources within the next two years.

TIMBER DEPREDATIONS

Commissioner Sparks Urges Vigorous Prosecution of the Montana Improvement Co. and the N. P.

WASHINGTON, Oct. [illegible]—Commissioner Sparks [illegible] report to the secretary of the interior [illegible] information received at the general land office that the Montana Improvement company is making extensive depredations upon [illegible] along the line of [illegible] Pacific railroad, under an agreement with the railroad company, and that private surveys [illegible] by the timber company with [illegible] depredated upon [illegible] to the United States.

The commissioner in his report urges vigorous prosecution against both companies. He says the [illegible] question whether the Northern Pacific Railroad company [illegible] right to any lands along [illegible] portions of its road as were not located with[illegible] the time when the road was required to be constructed. This has not been settled, and that if it [illegible] such right generally it has no right to specific tracts until selections have been defined by public surveys, [illegible] that such sections cannot be defined by [illegible] surveys, and that private surveys are un[illegible] He recommends that the timber company [illegible] from [illegible] on public lands to [illegible] surveys [illegible] says that nothing but the [illegible] and severe measures will put a stop to [illegible] operations. He recommends criminal prosecution against all persons connected with alleged [illegible] trespasses.

In another report upon application of this company to have certain suits discontinued that have [illegible] already commenced, the commissioner recommends, instead of discontinuing, the suits that they should be pressed with the utmost vigor, and [illegible] that public lands in portions of Montana, Idaho and Washington territories are being rapidly denuded by it of their valuable timber, and unless the full force of the government is exerted to [illegible] an immediate stop to these operations much [illegible] public timber land in said territories will [illegible] be nothing but a barren waste.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

NAVAL OFFICERS EXONERATED

WASHINGTON, Oct. [illegible]—Speaking to-day of the alleged importation of wine, etc., by officers of the United States ships Saratoga and Portsmouth, Commodore Schley, chief of the equipment bureau, said that there was no attempted smuggling on board the training ships. The officers did bring over a considerable quantity of wine with them from Madeira intended for friends on this side, who had sent for it, with the express understanding that the duty, whatever it might be, should be paid. If the commanding officers had been given an opportunity Commodore Schley said they would have sent to the customs authorities and asked for an inspector to come aboard to make an appraisement of such goods as might be dutiable. But the officers were treated as smugglers [illegible] had no opportunity to [illegible] their intentions.

NEW [illegible], R. I., Oct. 21.—The matter of smuggling on the training ships Saratoga [illegible] Portsmouth was settled this afternoon by a deputy collector boarding the vessels and collecting from the officers duty on the contraband goods. The collection amounted to nearly $800. The money was not paid without protest, but was paid as the ships leave here to-morrow. The protests will be referred to the secretary of the treasury.

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE PACIFIC COAST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Because of the fact that the river and harbor bill was not passed until the last days of the session of congress there was no time for inaugurating any of the new works proposed by the bill, and in some cases where work has been suspended upon improvements already begun the season had too far advanced to recommence operation. On the Pacific coast very little has been done to carry out the provisions of the appropriation, except in the vicinity of San Francisco and improvements upon the San Joaquin and Sacramento. Work in other quarters will be begun early in the spring.

Your correspondent made inquiry at the war department to-day to know why Maj. Jones had been removed from the charge of the work on the Cascades in Oregon and Capt. Powell put in his place. The answer was given that no special reason had governed the transfer. Capt. Powell was formerly in charge of the work and it was thought best to have him there again. The change involves no alteration in the plan of improvement.

THE HOSTILE APACHES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—It is to-day learned that the district attorney of Arizona recently represented to the attorney general that sufficient evidence was obtainable to convict Geronimo and his braves of murder before a civil tribunal, and that in view of that fact the governor of Arizona had requested the president to cause the military officers to surrender the hostiles to the civil authorities of the territory for trial. Notwithstanding this request, the action of the president in ordering the confinement of the Indians at Fort Pickens is accepted at the war department as conclusive evidence of the intention of the government to treat them as prisoners of war and not as military marauders amenable to civil jurisdiction.

THE REVENUES

WASHINGTON, Oct. [illegible]—Revenues so far this month have averaged over $1,000,000 a day and are now about $12,000,000 in excess of expenditures during the same period last year. The financial situation is regarded at the treasury department as favorable for another call for 3 per cent bonds, and it is probable that one will be issued in a few days.

AN IMPORTANT ELECTION

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

[illegible] are willing that both sides may be heard, [illegible] to say one word in regard to the pending [illegible] in Washington territory. This election is watched with great interest by all classes, even [illegible] of the limits of that territory. The issue has changed from one between political parties as such to one between a giant corporation and the people. If Mr. Bradshaw, the candidate supported by the Northern Pacific railroad corporation, is elected, the people of Washington territory cannot reasonably expect to have that territory admitted as a state during the next session of congress. His election would be [illegible] notice to congress and the country that if Washington territory be admitted [illegible] corporation senators would [illegible] seats in the United States senate. And neither the lower house of congress nor the country will tolerate the herding of any more corporation lawyers in the United States senate if it can be prevented. And it can be and ought to be prevented until the people of Washington territory show themselves strong enough to break the corporation collar from their necks. If the people of that territory wish to be admitted as a state they must show themselves freemen and not corporation serfs. This is an issue above party, and the lower house of congress will be justified by the people of the country in refusing admission to Washington so long as it is merely a corporation fief. A corporation triumph will effectually [illegible] the door against the speedy admission of Washington territory as a state.

The President Attends the Virginia State Fair.

HE ADDRESSES THE ASSEMBLAGE.

How he was Entertained at the Fair Grounds and in the City—He Talks with Jeff Davis's Daughter.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The president, accompanied by Secretaries Bayard and Endicott and Postmaster-General Vilas, left here this morning on a special train to Richmond, Va., to attend the fair of the Virginia agricultural association.

AT RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Oct. 21.—The presidential party arrived shortly before noon and were met by the governor and a reception committee with a proper escort and conveyances. A few minutes drive brought the party to the fair grounds, and as the head of the line filed into the main entrance, a presidential salute was fired. Inside the gates, drawn up eight in line, were the military, among them a battalion of colored troops. As the carriages bearing the president and cabinet officers passed the military remained at present arms and the [illegible] shouts of many thousands greeted [illegible] The president, taking the arm of Gov. Lee, made his way, cheered by the shouts of ten thousand voices, to the verandah of the office building and faced the welcoming throng.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

Gov. Lee in a brief speech extended the welcome of the commonwealth of Virginia to the president. The president replied in a clear voice, loud enough to be heard upon the borders of the great throng, as follows:

Fellow-Citizens of Virginia: While I thank you most sincerely for your kind reception and recognize in its heartiness the hospitality for which the people of Virginia have always been distinguished, I am fully aware that your demonstration of welcome is tendered not to an individual, but to an incumbent of an office which crowns the government of the United States. The state of Virginia—the mother of presidents, seven of whose sons have filled that high office—to-day greets a president who for the first time meets Virginians upon Virginia's soil.

I congratulate myself that my first introduction to the people of Virginia occurs at a time when they are surrounded by exhibits of the productiveness and prosperity of their state. Whatever there may be of honor in her history, and however much of pride there may be in her traditions, her true greatness is here exemplified. In our sisterhood of states the leading and most commanding place to be gained and kept is by the commonwealth which by the labor and intelligence of her citizens can produce most of those things which meet the necessities and desires of mankind.

AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP.

But the full advantage of that which may be yielded to a state by the toil and ingenuity of her people is not measured alone by the money standard of products. The efforts and struggles of her farmers and her artisans not only create new values in the field of agriculture and in the arts and manufactures, but they at the same time produce rugged, self-reliant and independent men, and cultivate that product which more than all others enables a state—practical, earnest American citizenship. This will flourish in every part of the American domain. Neither drouth nor rain can injure it, for it takes root in true hearts, reached by love of country. There are no new varieties in this production. It must be the same wherever seen, and its quality is never sound nor genuine unless it supports and sustains institutions and a government founded to protect American liberty and happiness.

THE REWARD

"The present administration of the government is pledged to return for such husbandry not only promises, but actual tenders of firmness and justice, with equal protection and full participation in national achievements. If in the past we have been estranged, and the cultivation of American citizenship been interrupted, your enthusiastic welcome of to-day demonstrates that there is an end to estrangements, and that the time of suspicion and fear is succeeded by an era of faith and confidence.

In such kindly atmosphere, and beneath such cheering skies, I greet the people of Virginia as co-laborers in a field where grows love of our united country. God grant that in years to come Virginia, the Old Dominion, the mother of presidents—she who looked on the nation at its birth—can [illegible] not only increase her trophies of growth in agriculture and manufactures, but that she may be [illegible] the first of all the states in true American citizenship.

HEARTILY APPLAUDED

The president was frequently interrupted by hearty applause, and when he concluded the immense concourse of people joined in a perfect ovation of cheers.

Col. Beverly then introduced, in the order named, Secretaries Bayard and Endicott, Postmaster-General Vilas and Commissioner of Agriculture Coleman. Each was greeted with cheers, which they simply acknowledged by bowing to the people, it having been understood that further speech-making would not be in order.

Among the ladies on the portico from which the speaking took place were Mrs. Lee, the governor's wife, and Miss Winnie Davis, daughter of ex-President Jefferson Davis, to whom President Cleveland was introduced and with whom he spent a few moments in pleasant conversation.

The party were then escorted to the headquarters of the president of the day, where they witnessed a review of troops, white and colored. After the review the president held a public reception for over an hour and shook hands with thousands.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock the visitors occupied seats in the grand stand and witnessed several races, after which a sumptuous repast was partaken of.

TO THE SOLDIERS' HOME.

The party then entered carriages and were driven to the Confederate soldiers' home, where they were received with a salute of artillery by the veterans. A stop of only a few moments was made, during which the president was presented with a souvenir of his visit in the shape of a beautiful basket of flowers, and he shook hands with all the veterans. The drive was then continued [illegible] and around the new reservoir grounds and [illegible] the principal streets of the city, and [illegible] to the gubernatorial mansion, where the [illegible] and a general introduction to [illegible] took place, and some time was spent in social [illegible] Miss Winnie Davis was a prominent [illegible] the group and was very [illegible] in her [illegible]

At [illegible] the president[illegible] party was driven back to the station, where they embarked at [illegible] o'clock homeward [illegible]

[illegible] until late [illegible] presidential party was [illegible] The veterans then [illegible] and one of the guns [illegible] blowing one man's arm off and breaking [illegible] and severely injuring another.

THE PRESIDENT RETURNS

WASHINGTON, Oct. [illegible]—The special train from Richmond bearing the presidential party reached Washington without accident or noteworthy incident at [illegible] this evening. The president expressed himself as having enjoyed his visit, and was pleased with the hearty welcome accorded by the Virginians.

WHY MRS. CLEVELAND STAYED AT HOME.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—An effort is being made to create an impression that Mrs. Cleveland's determination to visit Richmond in company with the president was based upon her objection to meeting Miss Winnie Davis, daughter of Jefferson Davis, who is a guest of Gov. Lee. The story in circulation is that the matter was made a subject of discussion at the cabinet meeting yesterday, and that Lamar, as well as others, advised the president to leave Mrs. Cleveland at home. There is absolutely no truth in the statement whatever. Mrs. Cleveland was interviewed this evening and stated that she did not go to Richmond because the distance was too great to be performed in a day, and moreover, her duties at home rendered her presence here at this time indispensable. She seemed greatly annoyed at the rumor as it was reported to her, and said it had not the slightest foundation in fact.

THE CODLIN MOTH

California Rural Press

It must be acknowledged that the codlin moth is becoming most painfully oppressive, and unless something effective is done by the growers several of our leading fruits will be well nigh rendered valueless. We notice that some people are advocating the "heroic remedy," which consists in picking and destroying all the fruit as soon as it reaches size enough to gather, and before the worm has time to mature. It does not appear how all the growers in any district, or in the state, can be induced, not only to sacrifice their crop, but also to foot the heavy bills for picking it clean from the trees. It is not possible so far to get growers to agree on any proposition relating to destruction of insects, and how they can be made to do this immense work is beyond our powers of penetration. We notice that some writers are commending the heroic treatment in destroying the crop of apples and pears, as though that would be sufficient. This would not do. If there are no apples and pears, quinces will suit the moth just as well, and they will destroy peaches also. We bought a box of peaches last week which were badly infested. We do not mean with larvæ of the peach moth, but with the codlin moth larvæ. This pest will take one fruit if another is not handy, and it is hard to tell what it will not accept on a pinch. We consider the heroic remedy quite impracticable both on account of the disposition of the people and the disposition of the insect, and it seems to us that [illegible] in favor of it is wasted. Let us devise something more practicable.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, OCT. 22, 1886.

WHEAT AND PRICES.

A Polk county farmer, in a letter to THE OREGONIAN, published two days since, said: "The farmer's bushel of wheat to-day would have a purchasing power of 87 to 90 cents, were it not for our tariff laws." There can be no doubt that the tariff laws do hinder the exchange of goods, and so make goods dearer to some extent to a people situated as we are. But the Polk county farmer is in error when he says that but for these laws his bushel of wheat would be worth 87 to 90 cents. That is about all it is worth just now in Liverpool or London.

Although the price of wheat is very low, and our farmers get very little for their wheat, yet it is a fact that a bushel of wheat at present will buy quite as large a quantity of most other commodities, and particularly of the great staples, as it would some years ago when farmers realized one dollar a bushel. As wheat has gone down, nearly everything else has followed it; and therefore if the farmer doesn't get so much for what he has to sell he doesn't pay so much for what he has to buy. For example, a bushel of wheat will probably buy more sugar now than it would six or eight years ago.

If we are to attribute the decline in the value of wheat chiefly to our protective tariff, to what, then, are we to attribute the like decline in the values of other commodities?

With most of us, when we begin to study a particular thing, the tendency is to concentrate thought on one phase of it and overlook or neglect other phases. Protection, so-called, though it can only be a burden upon agricultural people like ourselves, who manufacture nothing, yet has not to answer for any disadvantage under which we labor.

There is a tendency more and more throughout the country to the opinion that the low value of wheat in England, and consequently its low value here, are intimately connected with the rapid decline of silver in comparison with gold, and with the cogent fact of the rapid increase of the production of Indian wheat. Increased exports of wheat from Indian to England are in singularly exact proportion to the decreased exports from the United States to England; and increase of production of wheat in India, where most of the silver of the world circulates, bears likewise in singularly close relation to the decrease in the value of silver among the great commercial nations. The San Francisco Journal of Commerce puts the statement plainly thus: "The metal in which the Indian cultivator receives his pay, and which is the medium of commerce on the peninsula, is at present outside of the United States and the Latin union a depreciated one, and desperate efforts will be made to keep it so. The cheaper it becomes the cheaper goes Indian wheat into the markets of the world. An English merchant wants to invest £10,000 in Indian wheat; goes into the market and buys silver rupees to the nominal value of £12,500. He gets, therefore, 25 per cent. more wheat at the same apparent price than he does who buys American wheat and pays for it in gold. The result is to bring down the price of wheat precisely as the value of the rupee descends in the scale." The anomalous, puzzling and unaccountable fact in this state of things is that silver will circulate in India above its value in England; for though no one can account for it on sure principles, yet the fact remains that silver rupees will buy in India the same commodities for which golden guineas must be paid in This is at present the financial puzzle of the world.

Edwin Booth has concluded at Chicago the most remarkable theatrical engagement that city has ever known. He has been playing Hamlet every night for several weeks. Receipts ran from $20,000 to $23,000 per week. Every night every foot of space was occupied. Men and women were glad to sit on the balcony stairs, or even to get standing room. Tickets were sold out for every performance days in advance, and the audiences were described as being in a state of enthusiasm bordering on frenzy. Booth himself was overwhelmed with surprise at his reception.

THE WALLA WALLA FAIR.

WALLA WALLA, 20th of October.

The fair in progress near this city is not a pretentious exhibition in any sense and is chiefly interesting as a racing "meet." The field of blood horses is very large and fine and includes nearly all the speed stock in attendance at Salem during the recent state fair. The first day's sport, as the telegraph has already informed you, was spoiled practically by a rainstorm, which left the track heavy and even muddy in places; and not until this afternoon has it been in really good condition. The races up to this time have been beautifully contested—at least, it has seemed so to one whose knowledge of horse matters is not of the quality called "inside."

Of the several races since the opening, the most fairly contested and interesting was that to-day between Rapetta and Bogus. Racing men declare that there was never such a "finish" in the racing record of the territory. Having got safely ahead of the other competitors, the two horses named came down the home stretch in magnificent style, Bogus a half length ahead. Six feet before the wire Rapetta's chance seemed hopeless, but, as if realizing the situation, she gave a mighty bound and shoved her nose ahead of her rival's by less than a foot—and won. The extraordinary feat was a surprise, not less to the spectators than to the riders, and a perfect storm of applause followed.

I have been interested less in the racing stock than in the road horses driven in by farmers and others in wagons, etc. It is a surprise to see so many teams of fine style and speed in a country as yet comparatively new. Indeed, fine horses are commoner here than in any other part of the Pacific coast, due, I am told, to the conditions of climate and feed even more than to excellence of blood. The native food of the country makes bone, hoof and muscle, and "wind," another essential, comes from altitude and pure air. Even the severities of the climate are not without advantage in the toughening of horses. Seeing the universal excellence of the stock, one is led to wonder why breeding is not more generally pursued as a business.

There is no regular pavilion on the grounds, but the space underneath the grand stand has been fitted up for the display of agricultural and mechanical exhibits and a room in the officers' cottage given up for the department of art and fancy work. The display of farm products is meager, but by its variety it illustrates the capacity of the country in many particulars. Wheat, corn and barley of the finest quality, apples of splendid size and perfect flavor, potatoes of many varieties, roots of all kinds, with small fruits and (of course) a monster squash, make up an exhibit which proves that the Walla Walla valley is equal to any section of the Northwest as a field for general farming and fruit-growing. Besides these staples of farm production there are several exhibits which surprise visitors from abroad. For example, there are several fine displays of grapes, which I found (without grant from the superintendent, but of course purely in the public interest) to be of especial sweetness. They are not large, it is true, but it seems remarkable that they should be grown at all in a country of severe winters. Chestnuts, walnuts, etc., scarcely known at all in Western Oregon and never cultivated with success, are represented by handsome exhibits. In the town of Walla Walla, within two squares from the hotel, I saw a huge black walnut tree with half a cartload of ripe nuts lying on the ground beneath it.

There are few manufactures in this country and of course little to exhibit. A plow or two, a fine buggy, some harness, a few saddles and whips and half a dozen pieces of leather made up the exhibit and speak well for the enterprise and half a dozen men who are struggling to build up the business of manufacture in a small way in the face of many difficulties.

The women's department shows rather more enterprise and much more taste than the department given up to the men. The small space allowed it is economized in the nicest manner possible, and is literally full to overflowing with curious and artistic articles. There are pictures of all degrees of merit, needle-work without end, and a general assortment of bric-a-brac. Not least interesting are some extremely old articles—a book on the "Art and Mystery of Cooking," of date 1686, a bible of thirty years later, an original edition of Thompson's "Seasons," and a set of six silver coffee-spoons brought over in the Mayflower. These are the especial attractions of a department which charms all who visit it.

One of the most interesting and important exhibits is a cabinet of mineral specimens by Col. Parker, editor of the Statesman. It has been made up with great care and expense, and represents all the important mines in the Columbia river basin and the mines adjacent. In addition there are specimens of great beauty and value from mines elsewhere. The proprietors of the Journal, not to be outdone, have in constant motion a job printing press of the "Gordon" pattern and two printers at work "at the case."

It is very evident, and freely admitted by the managers, that the serious need of the fair ground is a pavilion. The arrangement now for the display of productions, works of art, etc., is insufficient and shabby, while there is no room at all for mercantile displays. There also needs to be a complete rearrangement of the grounds, with more liberal allowance of space for buildings, carriage yard, promenade, etc. The space now devoted to these purposes is limited and awkward in shape. The society, which has no outside source of income, is not able to make the improvements so much needed, and it would seem that the people of Walla Walla ought to have spirit enough at least to build a pavilion. In the end it would be money well invested. There will be one general fair for the country between the Blue mountains and the Snake river, and Walla Walla is the natural place for it. She has, besides the central position, all the advantages which come from an early start and she ought not to permit any other place to take the fair from her. An outlay of from six to ten thousand dollars for permanent buildings at this time would practically settle the matter for a time to come.

The site has been chosen most wisely. It is perfect level about a mile northeast of the town and accessible by a good road. It is supplied with pure water in abundance and could very easily be shaded. Of the view from the grand stand, their types and paper are not competent to speak. No sort of written description, most certainly not that I might make, could put before the reader the glorious prospect of swelling prairie near at hand, darkly carved, and beyond, with the forest-clad and snow-crowned mountains in the distance as they appear radiant in the crystal light of the brilliant autumn day. BAPTIST ANNIVERSARIES.

The Ministerial Conference—Advanced Position on the Temperance Question—The Convention.

SALEM, Oct. 20, 1886.

The Baptist ministerial conference of the North Pacific coast met in the Baptist church at Salem Tuesday morning, October 19.

After the customary opening exercises the following officers were elected: Rev. S. P. Davis, Oregon City, president; Rev. C. W. Rees, of McMinnville, first vice-president; Rev. J. M. Haskell, Mt. Tabor, second vice-president; Rev. W. H. Black, of Dilley, secretary; Rev. M. L. Rugg, of Salem, treasurer.

At the afternoon session a skeleton sermon was presented by Rev. S. P. Davis, and criticisms offered by Revs. C. M. Hill, T. G. Brownson, M. L. Rugg and O. D. Taylor.

Rev. Mr. Holmburgh, pastor of the Evangelical church, and Elder Webb, pastor of the Christian church of Salem, Rev. G. W. Downey, of Miles City, M. T., and Rev. A. J. McMichael, of Washington territory, were invited to seats in the conference.

The subject of "The Pastor as a Revivalist," opened by Rev. J. M. Haskell, was discussed by Revs. Rees, Taylor and Rugg.

"The Pastor as a Shepherd," was opened by Rev. J. C. Richardson and discussed by Revs. Davis, Baker and others.

"The Pastor as a Trainer" was presented by Rev. C. M. Hill, of Eugene, and discussed by Rev. Holmburgh and others.

The evening session was given to very interesting discussion of "The Relation of the Pastor to the Cause of Temperance." The subject was opened by a discourse by Rev. O. D. Taylor, of The Dalles, in an original, able and effective manner, after which the following resolution was offered by Rev. M. L. Rugg, and, after enthusiastic remarks by Revs. Rugg, Webb, Hill, Banks and Black, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the present condition of the temperance work demands that the minister of the Lord Jesus Christ not only set an example of temperance before his people, and preach and pray for the success of the work, but that the time has come when he should labor in every legitimate way that the temperance sentiment of the community may be crystalized into votes for the suppression of the traffic in intoxicating drinks."

After a short session this morning pertaining to business matters, preceded by a season of devotional exercises, the conference adjourned.

THE CONVENTION.

The Baptist convention of the North Pacific coast, embracing Oregon, Washington, Idaho and British Columbia, assembled in the Salem Baptist church at 10:30 o'clock to-day and was called to order by H. M. Clinton, of Portland, president; Rev. C. M. Hill of Eugene secretary.

After devotional exercises a committee on enrollment reported the following list of delegates in attendance:

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Convention reassembled at 2 o'clock. Nearly the entire afternoon session was taken up in the discussion of the proposition made at the last year's convention for a dissolution of this convention and merging the same into the Oregon Baptist state convention. It was stated that the conventions of Western Washington and Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho had already organized in accordance with the plans of last year. There appeared to be a number of incidental obstacles in the proposed dissolution, the most formidable of which was a debt of $142 due from this convention to the American Baptist Home Mission board at New York. An appeal was made for the raising of the money to liquidate this debt, and after some effort the money was all subscribed. The convention then decided in favor of the motion of final dissolution at the close of the present sessions of this body.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening was taken up by the annual convention sermon, an able and earnest effort by Rev. A. B. Banks, of Seattle, from the words, "Strive to enter in at the straight gate." This was followed by the address of welcome to the members of the convention by Prof. M. G. Lane, of the Salem church, and the response by Rev. C. M. Hill, of Eugene, on behalf of the convention.

TOLEDO NOTES.

TOLEDO, Oct. 20.

Mr and Mrs. J. M. Lamb and son left here Saturday for Kansas.

C. M. Bradshaw, republican candidate for delegate to congress, and C. H. Hanaford spoke here Tuesday evening. Mr. Bradshaw was worn out and quite hoarse, so did not speak long or make a particularly favorable impression, but a personal acquaintance was much to his advantage. Mr. Hanaford made a very able address.

Getting out poles for the Bennett-Mackay telegraph company has been quite lucrative employment for a good many people around Winlock. The total number of cedar poles to be delivered at that station was 4000, and about all have been delivered. The price paid was 75 cents a pole, and some men have made as high as $8 per day at it.

Four families from Texas and two from Georgia arrived here last week. They all have means enough to take care of themselves, and expect to purchase land. A letter received here from Paris, Texas, states that a car has been chartered to bring another lot of immigrants direct from that place to Portland, and it is thought that not less than two carloads will be ready to start together. The Cowlitz valley is their destination.

It seems that the N. P. railroad company only wants an opportunity to show its "hogglshness" on all occasions. While the Bennett-Mackay telegraph company was willing to pay any reasonable price for the use of a train to distribute their poles, the railroad company refused totally to allow their engines to go out for that purpose, so the poles must, at a great expense, be distributed by teams.

Principally on account of newcomers, the sawmills in this section are crowded with orders. Hinsdle's mill, at Mill Switch, is doing a rushing business, as are Rhoades & Co., at Winlock. The latter have just completed an order for 1000 sawed cedar telegraph poles and 1000 round ones. The Toledo mill has been moved about half a mile, to Salmon creek, for greater convenience in getting timber, and is more than busy in supplying the local market. The capacity of this mill is inadequate to the demand for lumber.

YAMHILL NOTES.

McMINNVILLE, Oct. 21.

Miss Rosa Hembree returned from a visit East Tuesday.

Dr. Wm. Chrisman returned from a hasty visit to Missouri yesterday.

Our thriving town is blessed with six Sunday schools, all prosperous and well attended.

Potatoes are about 50 cents a bushel now, but producers are holding for 25 cents next spring.

A. V. R. Snyder, of the Telephone, went to Astoria yesterday to engage in the newspaper business, and will begin the publication of a weekly paper about the 1st of November.

O. H. Adams and wife were treated to a surprise party last evening, it being their pearl wedding.

O. O. Hodson started for Indiana this morning, and will return in a few weeks with his wife, who preceded him two months ago.

B. E. Sanders, photographer, and son of Hon. J. R. Sanders, of Amity, died here yesterday of typhoid fever. His remains were taken to the place for burial to-day, and were followed to the train by the Odd Fellows and McMinnville fire department in uniform. He was president of the engine company.

CONSTRUCTION OF WATER WORKS,

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMITTEE,
PORTLAND, OREGON, October 4, 1886.

SEALED PROPOSALS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION of works for the water supply of the city of Portland, Oregon, will be received at this office until 12 M. December 15th, 1886.

These works will be constructed according to the printed specifications dated August 24th, 1886, and will include thirty-one miles of wrought-iron pipe, 27 and 22 inches in diameter, three iron bridges, two thousand feet of submerged pipe under and across the Willamette river, a reservoir within the city limits, and all other works described in the specifications, excepting those specified as "Head works," which are now under contract.

The specifications provide that the wrought-iron pipes shall be made of iron sixty inches in width, but proposals will also be received for furnishing the iron, and for manufacturing the entire length of pipe of iron either forty-two, forty-eight, or sixty inches in width.

Proposals will also be received for the construction of all the works described in the specifications, excepting the Head-works, for a lump sum, the contractor being at liberty to use iron for the pipes either forty-two, forty-eight, or sixty inches in width, the whole work to be completed within eighteen months after signing the contract.

In these modified forms of proposals the width of iron proposed will be stated in the bids, and a copy of this advertisement will be attached to each bid.

The proposals will be endorsed on the outside of the sealed envelope, "Proposals for Construction of Water Works," and addressed to Philip C. Schuyler, clerk of the Water Committee, Portland, Oregon.

The specifications and such further information as may be required will be furnished on application by
ISAAC W. SMITH,
Engineer of the Water Committee,
10o1d Portland, Oregon.

MALICIOUS KILLING OF ANIMALS.

An information was filed in the recorder's court yesterday charging Dan Martin, A. Pierce and D. [illegible], boys from 15 to 19 years of age, of wantonly killing animals, the property of another, D. F. Mc[illegible]. The complainant is the prosecuting witness and states that the boys were out shooting near his place at [illegible] on Tuesday last and shot at four hogs, killing two and wounding the others, and then making their escape. Warrants were issued and the trio arrested yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Marshal Mc[illegible] and taken before the recorder, and as they [illegible] fixed the time for examination at [illegible] M., and they were taken to the city jail. At that hour they were again before the recorder, when W. M. Lock appeared as their counsel, while Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Campbell appeared for the state, and by agreement the time for examination was set for to-day at 2 P. M., and the bonds fixed at $50 each for their appearance, and as they were unable to give bonds they were remanded to jail. A complaint was also filed against two of the boys, with Charles Mercer as prosecuting witness, charging them of stealing grain sacks, to which they will be called upon to plead after the examination on the first charge.

ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning an attempt was made to enter the kitchen of F. M. Tibbetts, at the corner of Tenth and N streets. The burglar had crept up to the door very softly, and was in the act of forcing the door when the watch dog on the other side of the house went for him and a fight ensued, and the dog got a blow from a club or loaded cane, which knocked him senseless, and the man leaped over the fence just as Mr. Tibbetts opened the door and succeeded in making his escape. It was thought at first that the dog would die, but he will be all right in a short time and will be ready for the next tramp that makes his appearance.

INDIAN BOYS CAPTURED.

The two Indian boys who escaped from the Indian school at Chemawa a short time ago, of which mention was made in THE OREGONIAN at the time, were caught near the Cascades on [illegible] and brought down on the train yesterday by Mr. Walker, who went in search of them. They were taken up to the school at Chemawa on the afternoon train yesterday by Mr. [illegible].

NOTES.

The road supervisor of district No. 3 has about finished work for the season on the Vancouver road. He has graveled two miles of the road, and it is in better condition than ever before at this time of the year, and will be much better for travel this winter than last.

W. S. McMillan, who has been employed in the wood hauling business, having got tired of that kind of work, has leased Joseph Paquet's farm on the [illegible] roads, about twenty miles from this city, for a term of five years, and leaves to-day to take possession. It is considered one of the best farms in the county.

Mayor Rafferty has appointed Robert Myers as poundmaster, or special officer to take up all kinds of stock running within the city limits. Owners of horses, cattle or swine will do well to keep a sharp eye on their stock, for Bob is an expert in the use of the lasso, and when on the back of his pony, a horse or cow running at large will stand a poor show of getting away from him.

The alarm of fire rung from the bell tower at [illegible] last evening, was caused by the breaking of a nail on which a lantern was hung, in the hay loft in Elam's barn, on corner of Fifth and I streets. The man who was feeding the horses ran to the spot just as the hay caught fire and succeeded in trampling it out with his feet before the flames had a chance to spread. No damage was done.

Mr. S. F. Scott's new residence on Columbia street, which has been in course of construction since May last, has been completed and is now being furnished, and Mr. Scott proposes to take possession of it on Saturday next. The building is two-story with a brick basement, and contains twelve rooms, and is furnished with the necessary water and heating apparatus. It is by far the handsomest and most substantially built residence in that vicinity.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

FISH AND GAME.—Spanish mackerel, a species of fish not seen here before, have made their appearance in this market within the last week or so. They come from the Sound and are said to be very fine fish. The Spanish mackerel is very plentiful along the Mexican and California coast and is a very good fish, but just how it happens that they should not have been seen here before if they frequent the Sound is a conundrum. New varieties of fish are constantly being brought to this market, and when the city shall have grown to such size as to furnish a demand for fish which will furnish employment to deep sea fishermen we shall have one of the best supplied fish markets in the country here. As to game, there is no end of it. Deer, wild fowl and birds are in excess of the demand most of the time. There is, however, no elk or antelope in this market. It seems as if some one might drive an elk, at least, to the Oregon Pacific railroad somewhere in the Coast range and kill it there and send it to this market. And as there are lots of antelope over in the eastern portion of the state some hunter might send in a few over the O. R. & N., also a mule deer or two, none of which have ever been seen here. When the Oregon Pacific and the California & Oregon have been built across the central and southern portions of Eastern Oregon we shall have lots of mule deer, antelope and mountain sheep in this market. And when the Astoria & Tillamook road is completed, if elk meat is not seen here frequently it will be singular.

CORN FROM JACKSON COUNTY.—Anyone stranger or Oregonian at all doubtful as to the conditions of this climate or soil being favorable to the growth of a crop of corn should make it a point to visit the rooms of the state board of immigration and see the exhibit there made by J. H. Stewart of Jackson county. Mr. Stewart presents the board with three varieties of field corn, the Indian Chief, the Chester County, Pa., and the Illinois White. He adds four varieties of garden corn and half a dozen hills of sweet potatoes. This corn had no help from irrigation and, as is very generally known, the past has been a very dry season. Mr. Stewart came from Illinois a year ago last March and located near Medford, where he has gone into the fruit raising business very extensively, having been engaged in that business near Chicago for a number of years. He brought the seed of this corn with him, and under his method of farming, which is that of Illinois, this state this corn is the result. He thinks it will be hard for either Illinois or Iowa to beat the record now on show at the immigration board rooms. An Oregonian from way back said on seeing this corn: "It is a marvel to me that Oregon produces it." It is another evidence that Oregon soil is ready for almost anything.

NO FOG BELLS.—Perhaps some English skippers in port do not know that according to the statutes of the United States a vessel anchored in or near the channel of a navigable stream must sound a signal when there is a fog. It may be with a steam whistle, bell or horn, but a sound must be made under penalty of $200 fine. Several vessels lying in the channel below the city have neglected to observe this precaution. At this season of the year we usually have fogs every morning, and as the expense is nothing, the shipmasters should sound a fog signal both for their own protection and the protection of other craft. Speaking of fog signals recalls an incident of five years ago. An English vessel took berth between Alder and Washington streets, her stern about forty feet from the Stark street ferry slip. A fog prevailed the next morning, and every time the master heard the ferry boat approaching this side he was in terror lest it would run into his craft, so he kept his bell going constantly. When the fog cleared up and he saw the ferry running on a cable, he kicked himself all over the quarter deck.

ENGRAVINGS OF THE FAIR.—AN OREGONIAN reporter visited the art rooms of the West Shore yesterday and was shown the sketches and partly finished engravings of the Mechanics' fair which will appear in the next number of the magazine. The sketches embrace views in the main hall, galleries, machinery hall, agricultural department, conservatory and art gallery, as well as a grand double-page view of the entire interior as seen from the gallery. The figures are so life like and the objects and exhibits so faithfully reproduced that in looking at them it seems almost as though one were gazing upon the fair itself. The advantages that Portland will derive from the sending broadcast of the large edition being published are obvious. No city of the same size has anything to compare with our Mechanics' fair, and this fact the West Shore will make known to the people of the United States in a form so attractive and in a style so creditable to the city, that great benefit must be the result.

TRIED FOR FRAUD.—C. N. Prettyman was tried before a jury in state circuit court, department No. 2 yesterday on a charge of fraudulent conveyance of property. According to the wording of the indictment Prettyman did on the 14th of December, 1885, willfully and unlawfully and falsely represent to Albert Johnson that the said C. N. Prettyman was the owner of lot 3, block 1, Garrison's addition to East Portland, and did then and there, with intent to defraud Albert Johnson, knowingly sell and convey to him lot 3 block 1 in Garrison's subdivision to the city of East Portland, and did execute to Louise Johnson, wife of Albert Johnson, then and there a conveyance of the same with intent to defraud Albert Johnson, he, C. N. Prettyman, knowing himself not then to have title to the same. The case occupied most of the afternoon and shortly before 5 o'clock was given to the jury, who had not agreed up to a late hour last night.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.—The time of the U. S. circuit court was occupied yesterday with the case of the ship Alliance, James Hannah libellant. Hannah was employed in the hold of the ship Alliance at the time she tipped over on the steamer Oklahama, which was about to move her across the river from Albina. When the ship careened over Hannah was in the lower hold. He made a jump for the ladder, but missed it and was thrown against the side of the ship and severely injured internally. He sues to recover damages in the sum of $[illegible] for loss of time, medical attendance, anguish, etc. The case was argued and submitted.

LADIES AUXILIARY COMMITTEE.—The ladies committee of the Young Men's Christian association held their annual meeting yesterday in the parlors of the association. Representatives from nearly every church were present. The constitution was read and a review of the work given. The election resulted in the following choice: President, Mrs. W. P. Jones; vice president, Mrs. J. N. Pearcy; secretary, Mrs. E. C. Frost; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Adams. The committee will hold an adjourned meeting on Thursday afternoon next at 3 o'clock, when committees for the year will be appointed.

WILL TEACH PAINTING.—In the art gallery at the Mechanics' fair are fifteen little gems, several being from the brush of Mrs. T. L. Nicklin. Her work in flowers painted from nature is perhaps her best, the delicate drawing and rich beautiful coloring being exceptionally true to nature. She also does other painting in a very brilliant manner, which shows she is an artist of much talent. Her many friends have prevailed on her to give lessons this winter, and she intends forming classes very soon. All desiring to take advantage of the opportunity should call on the lady in time.

MORE ILLEGAL HUNTING REPORTED.—A sportsman speaking of the reported shooting of Mongolian pheasants about Albany says that these birds have covered the Willamette and are quite plentiful along the west side road below Corvallis. It is reported that parties in that section are shooting them openly in violation of the law for their protection. The law provides a fine of $50 for killing these pheasants, half of which goes to the party securing the conviction of the offender. The arrest and punishment of a few of the parties who kill these birds would have a good effect.

A FAIR JOB.—James Shaw, a painter, yesterday performed the difficult feat of climbing to the top of the flagstaff on the courthouse and painting it. The distance from the ground to the top of the flagstaff is about 180 feet, from the base of the dome 10 feet and from the summit of the dome fifty four feet the length of the pole. Shaw fastened a rope around his waist and around the flag staff with a slip knot, so he could gradually slide down as he painted. While Shaw was painting, the upper portion of the staff swayed to and fro like the limb of a tree in a wind storm.

CLOSE OF THE FAT STOCK SHOW.—Yesterday was the last day of the fat stock show and by dark many of the exhibits were removed. The prizes for the milk and the butter contests were won by R. Scott of Milwaukie. His cow, an Oregon Grade Shorthorn, Beauty 2d, in four consecutive milkings of twelve hours each, gave respectively 21½, 21, 22 and 23¼ pounds of milk and from this milk four pounds of butter was made. A Holstein cow belonging to B. N. L. Davis was entered for the contest, but was taken ill and gave it up.

CHANCE OF OWNERSHIP.—It is reported on reliable authority that a new deal took place this week wherein more or less interest in the Portland and Willamette valley railway has passed into the hands of T. S. Brandegee and associates of this city, New York and Connecticut. The construction is to be pushed with energy to this city and to that end all arrangements are being made and a contract has been let for a portion of the rock road on the Portland side of present terminus at Elk Rock.

SUIT FOR RIGHT OF WAY.—The Portland & Willamette Valley Railway company yesterday brought suit in the state circuit court against Wm. J. Abernethy and wife. Plaintiffs wish to locate the roadway and track of the railway company through defendants' land in sections 24 and 25, T. 1 S., R. 1 E., in Multnomah county. They cannot agree as to the compensation to be paid and therefore suit is brought to have the court determine it.

FIRE LIMIT.—The ordinance passed by the council Wednesday night taking blocks No. 18, 19, 29 and 30 out of the fire limits includes also blocks No. 16, 17, 20, 32 and 43, with the proviso that all frame buildings hereafter erected on the above blocks, one, two or three stories in height, must be provided with an alley way three feet wide for every fifty feet frontage, or one and a half feet for every twenty five feet frontage.

NARROW GAUGE.—The State of California, which arrived Wednesday night, brought steel rails which are to go forward and to be used to complete the connection of the Portland and Willamette valley railway at Dundee with the Oregonian narrow gauge system at that point.

SHINDLER'S DISPLAY

At the fair is the only one of the kind and naturally attracts a great deal of attention from all classes. They are a manufacturing firm and appreciate the necessity of making a good showing at the fair which would be incomplete without it. They are now turning out many new things in furniture and their factory is kept busy in consequence. As a matter of course, they are obliged to carry a line of Eastern goods, which they will supplant with their own manufacture as fast as possible.

MISS SPALDING'S LECTURE

An excellent audience met Miss Spalding at Grace chapel Wednesday evening, on the occasion of her address before the Boys and Girls aid society of this city. Many representatives of churches and educators were present. The theme was "Child Saving and Preventive Work." Miss Spalding reviewed the personnel of the conference of charities and correction which she recently attended as a delegate. They were a noble band of men and women convened not to dispense theories but to compare their experience and record the actual facts of helpful work for social redemption. In this conference it was memorable to see how all discussions turned on and returned to the child and how every hope for a better world so far as the criminal and defective classes are concerned lies in a sacred justice and protection of children. The testimony of experience as voiced by Mr. Letchworth, the president of the conference, was that children are not brought to a true standard of character and worth by institution life. What is known as "boarding out" was also condemned. Only measures by which dependent or wayward children are found homes where by adoption they become members of a family or are practically so treated, are now approved by the best intelligence and experience, and such measures must in the main be the undertakings of private philanthropy. The state may aid by wise laws or a system of county agents.

The work of the Boys' and Girls' Aid society was referred to as being in quality fully equal to any work for delinquent or dependent children elsewhere. Its future development depends upon the generosity and sympathy of the public and the selection of a wise superintendent. Miss Spalding spoke of the emphasis laid by the conference upon woman's work and influence in the reformation of society, of the pervading conviction that social evils—intemperance, sensualism, poverty and crime—have reached a maximum. They may long remain with us, but there is an aggregated wisdom and sympathy of society being thrown into the work of prevention and protection which must bear speedy and wide spread fruit, and reach at last from consecrated individual effort to [illegible] laws and principles in government.

OREGON POTTERY COMPANY

The exhibit of the pottery company at the Mechanics' fair, while not so large and well arranged as in former years, is all that is really necessary to show what this company are doing in their line of manufacture. They exhibit all the leading articles kept in stock by them, such as sewer pipe from three to twenty two inches inside diameter, traps, elbows, curves, branches, etc., also chimney pipe and all varieties of fittings for same, and agricultural drain tile and fittings. Also stoneware of the latest and best manufacture, excelled by none on the continent. All the products of the Oregon Pottery company are made from material native to Oregon, and it is therefore strictly a home industry. It is not only an Oregon enterprise but largely of local importance. A visit to their large new manufactory in the northern part of the city will convince any one that these works are among the most important of the manufacturing institutions of Portland and the Northwest. The Oregon Pottery company by their energy and push demonstrate that they would rather be ahead than abreast of the times in their line of manufacture.

The fact of their being busy in constructing their new works and the poor encouragement given by the management of the Mechanics' fair to legitimate home industry accounts for the little interest taken by them in making their usual display. A more full and detailed description of the new works may be looked for at a future time.

PERSONAL.

Alfred J. Houck, of Houck Bros., Monroe, is in the city.

Hon. John Burnett and wife of Corvallis are in the city.

Mr. F. J. Kaiser, of the Ashland Tidings, is in the city doing the Mechanics' fair.

Mr. H. C. Eckenberger, of the Chicago & Northwestern, left yesterday for New York, to be gone about six weeks.

J. Senders and wife of Corvallis are in the city. Mr. Senders has owing to ill health temporarily abandoned active business pursuits.

Judge Deady yesterday received a large photograph of Mr. Justice Field, of the United States supreme court, in his robes. It will be properly framed and hung in the United States courtroom.

Hon. W. Lair Hill arrived here on the State of California Wednesday evening. He left for The Dalles yesterday, where he will remain a short time. He is quite lame on account of an injury to one of his legs by being thrown from a buggy. He reports that the new code will be out in December.

I can say truthfully that IT WAS THE MEANS OF SAVING HER LIFE. I know of five cases that DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM has cured and my mother is better than she has been for twenty years.

AN OPEN QUESTION

Ask any lady, (even our personal enemy), where is the best place to buy your fall wrap or winter cloak, the answer will be McAllen & McDonnell's popular dry goods store, 165 Third street. Our cloak room is crowded daily, there must be something in it.

THE MECHANICS' FAIR.

Agricultural Exhibit to be Given to the Immigration Board—Medal Presented to Mr. Meyrelles.

It is remarkable how the interest in the Mechanics' fair this year seems to have been steadily on the increase. The larger attendance last night than on previous evening goes to show that to-night and to-morrow night will show such an increase as has never been known before. By special request selections from Maritana will be interpolated in this evening's programme between the second and third numbers. The music for to-night will be made up entirely from French compositions.

NOTES.

The much talked of orchid called the "baby plant" will be placed on exhibition to-night. [illegible] the garden.

The event of the evening was the presentation of a gold medal to Mr. M. C. Meyrelles, the conductor of the Walla Walla Military band. He was called into the directors' room and there Dr. Chance, in behalf of the directors and in their presence, addressed a few complimentary remarks to Mr. Meyrelles and pinned on his breast a very handsome gold medal as a slight token of their appreciation of his excellent services during the Mechanics' fair of 1886. The medal itself is a very heavy gold medal pendent to a gold bar, while in its center is attached a tri-colored red, white and blue [illegible] massive chased gold pin. The words "Mechanics' Fair, Portland, Oregon," and "M. C. Meyrelles" with the compliments of the directors were engraved thereon. Mr. Meyrelles wears several other medals, tokens of appreciation and regard. One he prizes highly was presented to him by Dom Pedro, emperor of Brazil, while Mr. Meyrelles was leader of the Imperial band. It was a pleasant and flattering tribute to Mr. Meyrelles, and one he richly deserved. He has with his band won a warm place in the hearts of Portlanders, and he has done it by hard work and by using all his energies in his desire to please. [illegible] by personal [illegible] and their [illegible] hundred pieces of music. In introducing descriptive music he has followed the famous leadership of Gilmore's renowned band of New York city, who first introduced and made this class of music popular. Throughout the fair the most cordial [illegible] has been preserved and the band leave many warm friends by their uniformly courteous and gentlemanly behavior. A wide range of music has been played, from the light but popular class to the works of the world's greatest composers. All, from the ordinary man who hums anything with a jingle to it to the sensitive cultured musical ear, have been pleased. Mr. Meyrelles and his band will always be welcome in Portland and they may feel sure of the golden opinions of all our citizens.

The board of directors passed the following resolution at their meeting last night:

Resolved, That the grains and grasses belonging to this association now on exhibition at the Mechanics' pavilion be turned over to the state board of immigration to be placed on exhibition at their rooms in this city.

Between the second and third numbers on to-night's programme the band will play by special request selections from "Maritana."

SPECIAL EXHIBITS

DECORATIVE ART.

Another instance of good judgment was displayed in awarding to Mr. A. Mattheson a gold medal, as his glass decorative work deserves a place among the industries of the state and merits recognition. This work is entirely new and aside from its attractiveness is a valuable adjunct to the buildings as they are erected. This decorative work is in use in many places and orders are coming in very fast for it. Mr. Mattheson, 103 First, will furnish printed samples to select from.

ABELL'S EXHIBIT.

The fine arts committee, consisting of Ivan F. Dawson, Charles H. Dodd and Frederick Towne, presented their report as follows: "The only entry in class 1, 'Photographic Display,' is that of F. G. Abell & Son, and while the exhibit possesses much merit, we regret exceedingly that the display in this department is not greater and more varied. Portland has long been celebrated for the excellence of the work of its photographic galleries, and deservedly so. This exhibit of Abell & Son is a very worthy exhibit and specimens of the new bromide process show labor and improvement in the art of sun picturing. We would therefore recommend that the award of the grand silver medal be made to them."

THE WATER HEATER.

Swager & Ferchen's patent has attracted much attention nightly, and to supply the demand they have decided to sell country rights for the state and territorial rights. They will be found during the day at the St. Charles.

DR. SOUTHER'S BAKING POWDER.

Thousands of little sample packages of this family article have been given away nightly. For this powder much is claimed over other makes, which is fully detailed in the circulars issued. Messrs. Mason, Ehrman & Co. of this city have been appointed agents for its sale.

WISDOM

Is one of those pushing men who is doing all he can to bring to notice home productions, and we see no reason why the new preparation, Robertine, for the complexion, should not take the place of foreign goods, of which we import large quantities. Knowing the value of printer's ink, Mr. Wisdom is using it liberally to bring to notice this preparation, and already reports large sales though it has been on the market but a short time.

NORTHRUP & STURGIS

Display their bottled champagne cider, ginger ale, soda waters and Cascade Springs water in the only exhibit of the kind in the fair, and the firm regret their inability at this time to show the bottling at the fair as it is done at their works. These works are accessible to visitors during the day and those who would like to see how the goods are put up can be interested by calling on Northrup & Sturgis, Fifth and Oak, during working hours.

OREGON STEAM BAKERY.

Since the awards have been made much interest has been centered in those who have been fortunate in this particular. Years ago the firm of T. H. Lube & Co. succeeded the old house of F. Opitz, and from that time have gradually built up the business and extended their facilities for the production of their goods, and to-day they find the machinery incapable of turning out supplies sufficient to meet the demand. Few local institutions are thus favored, but with strict care and attention to the needs of the trade they can acquire a like run of business. Very few people appreciate the value of an institution of this kind to the state, and we are sorry there are not more of them in this section.

WM. FLIEDNER.

Among the new things noticed in Mr. Fliedner's display last night was the beautiful clock attached to the Union soda fountain, which is itself a beauty, being elegantly finished in all its details. A jar of gum opium showing the deadly drug in its natural state is a novel and attractive sight. He also shows a little ball of coca, from which the new anesthetic cocaine is made.

THE VETERAN FLORIST.

While this bright, warm weather lasts is the time to set out your bulbs. Fliedner has a large assortment of them this fall, which he considers superior to any he has ever had.

RUSSELL & CO.

This concern is building now automatic engines from 25 to 200 horse power, designed for use in electric light plants, and are so rushed with orders that they were unable to furnish one for the Mechanics' fair. These engines are finished in superior style and are unsurpassed for beauty of design, work, etc. Their New Massillon Thresher, Nickel Plated Traction Engine and Portable Saw Mill are now on exhibition at the fair and are drawing large crowds.

ROSEBURG ITEMS

ROSEBURG, Oct. [illegible].

Our city is full of jurors and witnesses this week from all parts of the county.

J. B. Dowell and Attorney Woods came up from Portland this evening to attend to business before our circuit court.

Hon. Binger Hermann left for Portland and Willamette valley towns to look after the wants of some of his constituents.

The ladies of Reno Relief corps No. 10, G. A. R., are still making extensive preparations for their entertainment next Tuesday evening.

Most of Roseburg's visitors to the Mechanics' fair at Portland have returned loud with praises for the grand and excellent exhibitions made.

Hon. H. H. Watson, formerly judge of this district, came up last week and is in attendance at the court, being engaged in several important cases.

A large number of mining claim locations have been filed and recorded with the county clerk within the last few days. Some rich mines have been discovered about Canyonville in this county lately.

Quarterly meeting has been in progress at the Methodist church here since Sunday morning, presided over by the presiding elder of this district. The meetings are said to be of a very interesting nature.

Our amateur troupe performed the Gunmaker of Moscow last Friday and Saturday evenings with great credit to the performers. Miss Myra Brown and Mr. Chase were perfectly immense in their characters and brought the house down in good earnest.

Court commenced last Monday with the Hon. R. S. Bean, circuit judge, presiding, ninety four cases being on the docket to be disposed of, twelve of them being divorce cases. The criminal docket is very light, twenty three civil cases having arisen directly or indirectly out of the Owens imbroglio.

Allen Arrington, who had been stopping at Mr. Aaron Rose's, his brother-in-law, for several months suffering from that dread disease consumption, died last Saturday evening and was buried Monday forenoon. He was a member of the A. O. U. W. belonging to the lodge located at Marshfield.

A sociable was given Monday evening for the benefit of our library association and the library was then fully dedicated with speeches and other appropriate exercises. The reading room and library start off under very favorable circumstances. Much credit is due Mr. and Mrs. Swick for the initiative steps of this laudable institution.

UNDER THE WHEELS.

A Young Man Terribly Mutilated by a Freight Train—Sudden and Horrible Death of S. G. Thoeny.

Spokane Falls Review.

Simeon G. Thoeny, a young man employed in the Review office for the past year, was killed by the cars near Stevens station in this county early Sunday morning. He was at this office about 4 A. M. to bid the force good bye, as he was about to take the train for The Dalles, with the expectation of only being absent a week. A couple of the boys in the office walked to the depot with him, when he had just time to catch the freight going west. At about 10 o'clock a dispatch was received from Cheney of his sudden and terrible death. How it happened is only conjecture, as no one witnessed the accident.

A tramp who was walking westward found the remains and his story is as follows: He was walking on the track when the train came along. As it passed he saw a man sitting on the brake-wheel of a flat car next to the caboose. He followed on the track after the train, and after walking some distance and when within about a mile of Stevens station he noticed blood, brains and pieces of clothing on the track, then an arm, and still further on the perfectly nude body of a man off at one side and down a slight embankment from the track. From the size of the body it at once struck him as the man he had seen riding on the brake wheel. He hurried on to Stevens and notified the section hands, who took a hand car up the road, gathered up the remains and sent them to Cheney on the east bound passenger. The body was frightfully mutilated. It is the supposition that the young man, not thinking of danger, was riding on the brake wheel, as hundreds of persons continually are doing, and that a sudden jerk of the train precipitated him headlong between the cars. In some manner his clothing caught in the axle or brake beam and the unfortunate man dragged some distance until every stitch of clothing was torn from the body. His shirt and drawers and one shoe were torn and ground to shreds. The whole top of the head was crushed and the brains scattered on the track. The right arm was cut completely off some four inches from the shoulder. The bones of the left arm were crushed to a pulp. The legs were broken in several places and the body covered with abrasions.

Young Thoeny was a son of Martin Thoeny, Esq., an old and highly respected resident of Minnesota, cashier and principal stockholder of the First National bank of Glencoe, where Simeon was born. The young man was in the twentieth year of his age and came to Spokane Falls two years ago. He was a printer by trade, and worked for some time on the Chronicle. About a year ago he secured cases on the Review and has worked here ever since. He was a young man of generous impulses and sterling worth. Among his acquaintances he was a great favorite. He was a member of Myrtle lodge No. 14, K. of P., which order took charge of the remains. The parents were telegraphed and in response to their desire the remains will be shipped to Minnesota.

IMPROVING THE COWLITZ RIVER.

TOLEDO, W. T., Oct. 20.

The Cowlitz River Pilot will publish the following editorial in its next issue:

The permanent improvement of the Cowlitz river is a work not only of great importance to Lewis and Cowlitz counties but to Portland, Or., as well. Almost the entire trade of the river goes to Portland, and it is to that city our merchants go for their goods. As the country is settled and the land improved the trade increases, and to such a volume has it now attained that the pressing necessity for an open river the entire year is apparent to not only residents and shippers here, but to commission merchants, wholesale houses and others at Portland. The high freight and passenger rates charged by the railroad amounts to almost a prohibition on the shipment of produce and compels our merchants to either handle goods at unprofitable figures or sell for several months in the year at high prices. For the very lack of constant steamboat navigation the development of this valley is ten years behind. Give us an all summer channel so that the river may be depended on at all seasons, and a new impetus will be given to industrial enterprises and agricultural pursuits that will add to land values, create a new market for farm produce, and make an active demand for our immensely valuable timber and minerals, building up here a city of commercial importance and putting in the reach of Portland a trade that will add largely to her business and help to maintain her position as the commercial metropolis of the Northwest. For these reasons Portland should lend her influence to obtain, for the Cowlitz river, an appropriation from the next congress that will complete the work now under way.

The appropriation for this year was $2000 and it became available only a few weeks since. When the money was ready Maj. Jones wisely determined that as the season was so far advanced the surest way of obtaining satisfactory results was to employ Capt. Orrin Kellogg to superintend the work, allowing him full discretion as to how and where it should be done. The captain first made a careful examination of the bars which are the principal obstructions, and found that they were in most instances caused by a sunken log or stump impeding or changing the flow of the water. The surface of the bar is large stones under which is coarse gravel and below that fine gravel and sand. The first work was to blow out the snags with giant powder and thus secure a free flow of water, then men waded out and carried the large stones from the channel, after which the gravel was stirred up with a shovel and the current sluiced out the channel.

In this way Stock's and Smith's bars were cut down so that there were twenty eight inches of water where there has been but twelve or fourteen inches heretofore. This is a new and cheap plan of cleaning out bars on this river, but none the less practical and effective. Capt. Kellogg has shown that in this way ten men can cut a channel forty feet wide and a hundred feet long across any bar in the river, and this he believes to be the best kind of improvement. He is now working to straighten the channel by blowing out the snags and sluicing off the bars, and thinks if the current is given a chance it will keep a clear channel. Experience has shown in most instances in these swift waters that wingdams are useless. They may change the current and move a bar, but they often form eddies that create new bars. By removing the snags and sluicing out a straight channel the river forms its own wingdams and puts them where they are most needed.

The cost of this kind of work is very light compared with any other work on this river. Messrs. Nelson and Morris, who are blasting just below Toledo, furnish the following statement of their work near here. The obstructions removed were one fir stump 18 inches by 6 feet, one stump 5x8 feet, one log 20 inches by 20 feet and one log 14 inches by 30 feet. All were in swift water and over half buried in the gravel, and the largest stump was in six feet of water and a seven mile current. To blow these completely out so they floated away, forty sticks of powder were used and the cost, including labor, was about $25. Altogether Kellogg has used about 900 pounds of powder to remove 220 snags and sunken logs, many of which have been worked at before but are now things of the past. If an appropriation could be secured large enough to clean out the entire river thoroughly, only an insignificant sum would be required each year to keep it open, and it is estimated that $8000 would do the work. This would give us an open river all the year round from the Columbia river to Salkum, the one great thing desired and necessary for the prosperity of this valley. While Washington is a territory we cannot expect this without Oregon's aid is enlisted in our behalf, which could no doubt be done if the proper representations and efforts were made. The water has been lower this summer than for many years, yet where the sluicing has been done the steamboat passed through easily. Let the river be opened and a new era of prosperity will dawn for this portion of Washington territory that will put new life in our industries, give increased profits, employment and contentment to an already favored people.

What can be more disagreeable, more disgusting than to sit in a room with a person who is troubled with catarrh and has to keep coughing and clearing his or her throat of the mucus which drops into it. Such persons are always to be pitied if they try to cure themselves and fail. But if they get Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy there need be no failure.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT, NO. 2.

Mary Jane [illegible] vs. Peter Kalich et al., ten days allowed defendant to plead.

Jacob [illegible] vs. W. [illegible]; suit for divorce, referee [illegible] testimony and report findings.

Michael [illegible] vs. Sophia Lamet and others, default against E. L. Fellows, for want of answer.

To-day in Judge Stearns' court William Wood is to be tried on a charge of having stolen iron from one [illegible] Johnny Mooney. The case of George W. Phillrick vs. P. C. Smith will be called for hearing on the report of the referee, J. K. Kelly. Phillrick sued Smith for damages for having been shot by him and got a judgment for $3000. In the meantime Smith transferred his property to T. J. O'Connor, and proceedings were commenced to have the transfer set aside. This is what is to be passed upon.

POLICE COURT.

The police court yesterday presented a more lively appearance than usual. A Chinaman, who refused to give his name or even open his mouth, was adjudged guilty of stealing some bananas from A. Anderson's fruit store and sent to jail for two days. The cases against Michael Doney and James Gallagher of fighting and Michael Doney of carrying a pistol were dismissed on motion of the city attorney and district attorney, some political influence having been brought to bear. Anyhow Doney's case was first dismissed on motion. Gallagher pleaded guilty to fighting, and policeman Henline stated that when he made the arrest both were at it as hard as they could. As Doney had already been let off, Judge Dement very properly considered that although Gallagher acknowledged the corn, so long as a motion by the city attorney had been made and acceded to to dismiss Doney, it wouldn't be fair to punish Gallagher. Nothing like being acquainted with a councilman sometimes. D. Johns, an expressman, arrested on complaint of officer Tichenor for running an express wagon without license, had his case set for trial to-day. The case against Mary Cook for keeping a disorderly house was set for trial Saturday.

FREIGHTS—Small movement for the week the only arrival being the Isle of Erin with prior business The Pass of Leny Elmhurst and Birmah sailed with wheat and the bark Cheney with lumber. On spot the Archer began loading a wheat cargo the Auckland was rechartered and the San Luis taken up for grain loading The Kitty secured Hong Kong business A vessel now at San Francisco was taken up to come here for grain The most of this business was consummated early in the week, and was one of those spurts that occasionally take place. Later on the market fell into a dull state and continues it at the close. The nominal quotation for iron for orders remains 37s 6d with tonnage constantly holding for more. The rate is all that can be obtained, and is the reputed basis of last charters At Astoria the Glenfyne Wakefield Margaret Heald Reaper, Mitredale Silvershow Don and Noddleburn are finished or finishing and will soon get away Some of the fleet here have part cargo in. San Francisco has ruled inactive 30s being the nominal figure for iron High rate ships continue to arrive there.

WHEAT—Receipts for a week have been 1688 tons valley and 9505 tons Walla Walla against 1287 and 11,286 tons the same week last year and 2102 and 8836 tons respectively the preceding week this year. For the most part of the week under review a fair local business was done Toward the close some buyers assumed an air of indifference and refused to pay the extremes that were possible in other directions. Much of the Walla Walla now going into ships is recent purchase at $1 13¾@1 15 and these figures may now be quoted here although the extreme is a very full one and a figure that most shippers think should cover only free on board parcels. While $1 12½ has been talked of the best information is that none here has sold that low In the interior $1 12½ and a little better is named by warehousemen who bought on that basis. Valley will certainly not bring over $1 22½ and to sell at all readily sellers would have to accept a slight decline Buyers are quoting $1 20 and a little better in the interior Our market has found nothing in advices to influence it and the weak feeling is due to constantly lessening needs. It will be noticed that receipts are free and that very little is going domestic

In other grain markets than our own the features of the week have been a considerable increase in the American visible, slightly lessened deliveries by English farmers larger British imports and a slight decline in the quantity afloat for the United Kingdom. None of these influences are of moment and as one has served to offset the other, the slight improvement cabled from abroad must be ascribed to better demands for cargoes. Of the old crop Pacific coast there is very little now afloat. July and August were light export months and it is fair to presume that off coast cargoes of Pacific wheats will be small in number for two months to come This can exert no considerable influence for other supply countries are expected to offer freely The last Mark Lane report showed the British farmer was receiving but 3d more for his wheat than in the lowest turn of last year Last year this time California cargoes off coast were quoted by Beerbohm at 36s and prompt shipment 3[illegible]s 6d Now the quotation is 34s and 35s respectively Red winter is now 32s for prompt shipment against 34s 6d a year ago

MILLSTUFF—Supplies free and market quiet, but generally steady None going to San Francisco. Jobbing values are Bran $14@15 chop $22@24 shorts $16 Ground barley $24 and oil meal $32 50. No middlings in stock.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples in large receipt with free shipments to San Francisco and eastward points. A large portion of receipts are wormy and hardly fit for anything but making cider or drying. This hurts the market. Dealers pay 40@60c for choicest qualities for shipment. Few pears coming in, but Salem sent a car to Chicago during the week. Quote 75c Grapes sell at 75c with demands falling away California lemons are quoted $6 and Sicily $10 50 Some Jamaica oranges sold at $1[illegible] per barrel.

EGGS—Very firm market all week under light arrivals, dealers obtaining 35c for all received Two lots of Iowa arrived in the week and more will soon be at hand. At such a high figure the market is a sensitive one

BUTTER—Dealers obtaining 60c per roll for choice dairy. Good grades selling at 22½@25c per pound. There is a good supply of common roll and of fair solid, the range being 15@22½c

POTATOES—Receipts noted have for the most part been for shipment for through account. Our dealers have done nothing in this way because of low prices below For local purposes 80c is about the obtainable extreme Yesterday San Francisco quoted Burbanks higher. Sweets sell at $1 75 China and Japan are buying in San Francisco the last steamer taking 708 cases,

ONIONS—Only a fair business doing and the quotation of $1@1 10 is not changed

HAY—Choice timothy brings up to $12@14 the market being firmer with light offerings Mixed or common is quoted $8@10

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—Government bonds were dull. The stock market was quiet, and for awhile an improved feeling It was firm to strong in early dealings. It yielded in sympathy with coal stocks later Operations in the latter are generally attributed to a recently formed bear pool who persistently hammered them with a view to ultimate effect. The market in early dealings was firm with Jersey Central and Richmond & West Point special features but the latter and the coal stocks soon broke, carrying the remainder of the market below the opening In the afternoon the general list was heavy [illegible] before [illegible] P M the entire market rallied and closed strong Almost everything is higher this evening

MINERAL PRODUCTS.

Statement of the Amount and Value of the Mineral Products of the U. S for 1885.

The Estimate of the U. S Geological Survey Classification of Products and Values

The following condensed statement of the mineral production of the United States in the calendar year 1885 is from advance proof sheets of a report shortly to be issued by the United States Geological survey This volume will be the third of the series known as "Mineral Resources" reports, prepared by the division of mining statistics and technology"

Coal—The total commercial product of coal of all kinds in 1885 exclusive of that consumed at the mines known as colliery consumption was 95 [illegible] long tons, valued at $152,915 108 Of this [illegible] [illegible] 421 long tons were Pennsylvania anthracite valued at $[illegible] 644, while of other coals including bituminous brown coal, lignite, and small lots of anthracite produced outside of Pennsylvania the production was 63 509 284 long tons valued at $[illegible] at the points of production The total production including colliery consumption was Pennsylvania anthracite 3[illegible] 8 548 long tons all other coals 64 840 668 long tons making the total absolute production of the coal mines of the United States 10[illegible] long tons valued as follows Anthracite $[illegible] bituminous $[illegible] total $1[illegible] The total production (including local consumption) of anthracite was 1 0[illegible] tons in excess of that of 1884 and its value was $10 [illegible] greater The total production of bituminous coal was [illegible] tons less than in 1884 but its value was $4 [illegible] greater The total production of coal of all kinds shows a net loss in tonnage of [illegible] long tons compared with that of 1884 but a gain in value of $[illegible] the increase in value being due to an average increase of 25 cents per ton. [illegible] The total value is about the same as that of 1884.

Coke The total production of coke in 1885 was [illegible] valued at the ovens at $[illegible] Of this Pennsylvania produced [illegible] per cent, or [illegible] [illegible] The remainder was produced in [illegible] states and territories The maximum production of coke in the United States was reached in 18[illegible] [illegible] The production of 1885 shows a gain [illegible]

Petroleum—The total product was [illegible] barrels of 42 gallons [illegible] New York [illegible] produced [illegible] barrels [illegible] at an average price [illegible] cents per barrel was $[illegible] The production showed a decrease of [illegible] barrels and $[illegible] in value from 1884

Natural gas No record is kept of the yield in [illegible] The amount of coal displaced by gas [illegible] was [illegible] tons valued at $[illegible] In 1884 the coal displaced was valued at $1 [illegible] The yield has increased tenfold since 1884

Iron The principal statistics of 1885 were Domestic iron ore consumed [illegible] long tons value at mine $1 [illegible]60 000 Imported iron ore consumed [illegible] long tons total iron ore consumed [illegible] long tons pig iron made 4 044 5[illegible] long tons a decrease of 5[illegible] tons as compared with 1884 value at furnace $64 [illegible] 400 or $9 04[illegible] less than in 1884 Total spot value of all iron and steel in the first stage of manufacture excluding all duplication $[illegible]000 000 a decline of $14 000 000 from 1884

Gold and Silver The mint authorities estimate the value of the gold produced in 1885 at $31 801 000 an increase of $1,001 000 over 1884 The production of silver is similarly estimated at $51 [illegible]00 000 an increase of $[illegible] 800 000 over 1884

Copper The production in 1884 including 5 0[illegible]6 841 pounds made from imported pyrites was 1[illegible] [illegible] 60[illegible] pounds valued in New York at $18 2[illegible] [illegible] at the average price of 10⅞ cents per pound The increase in pounds over 1884 was 5[illegible]740 66[illegible], in value $[illegible]

Lead—Production, 12[illegible]41 short tons Total value at an average price of $81 per short ton at the Atlantic coast $10 46[illegible] 431 a decline of 10 485 tons and $67 611 in value from the product of 1884 The production of white lead is estimated at 60 000 short tons, worth at 5½ cents per pound, $6,300 000

Zinc.—The production of metallic zinc in 1885 was 40 688 short tons valued at $3 539,856 at an average value of 4 35 cents per pound an increase of 2144 tons and $117,149 in value over 1884 Zinc was also made from the ore directly into zinc white (zinc oxide) to the extent of 15 000 short tons, valued at $1 050,000

Quicksilver—Production 32 073 flasks (of 76½ pounds net) or 160 flasks more than in 1884 Total value at an average of $30 53 per flask at San Francisco $979,189 an increase of $42 861 over 1884 The production of quicksilver vermillion was about 000 000 pounds the same as in 1884 but the price advanced to 52 cents per pound making the total value $312 000.

Nickel—The production of metallic or "grain" nickel was 245 504 pounds valued at $169 39[illegible] In addition matte and ore containing 3[illegible] 400 pounds of nickel were exported Total value of all nickel, $1[illegible]0 000

Cobalt—The amount of cobalt oxide was 8[illegible] pounds valued at $19 [illegible] The total value of cobalt in ore matte and the above oxide was $[illegible]

Manganese—The production of manganese ores was 2[illegible] 58 long tons valued at $1[illegible]0,281 Manganiferous iron ore [illegible] long tons valued at $1[illegible] total value $207 589

Chromium—The production of chrome iron ore was [illegible] long tons valued at $40 000 The consumption for making potassium and sodium bichromates increased markedly due to imports of chrome iron ore from Asia Minor

Tin—Probably 200 tons of black tin ore were made at the concentrating works at the Etta mine in Dakota. No smelting works have yet been erected

Platinum—The amount of crude platinum mined in 1885 was about 2[illegible] troy ounces valued at $18[illegible] 50 This is exclusive of about 300 ounces of iridosmine for pointing pens

Aluminum The production of metallic aluminum increased from 1800 troy ounces in 1884 to 3400 ounces in 1885 valued at $[illegible] Aluminum bronze containing 10 per cent aluminum was made to the amount of about [illegible]00 pounds valued at $1850

Building Stone—Value $1[illegible] 000 000 about the same as in 1884

Brick and Tile—The demand and consequent production increased to an estimated value of $35 000 000 in 1885

Lime.—With the price constant at [illegible]0 cents per barrel at the kilns the production increased from [illegible] 000 000 barrels in 1884 to 40 000 000 in 1885

Cement—The production of cement from natural rock increased to 4 000 000 barrels of 300 pounds each but was valued at only $3 200 000 Artificial Portland cement amounted to 150 000 barrels of 400 pounds each, with a total value of $2[illegible]2 500 The total production of cement of all kinds was 4 150 000 barrels valued at $3 49[illegible] 500 against $3 [illegible]0 000 in 1884

Precious Stones—The value of American precious stones produced in 1885 was $69 [illegible]00 This includes $42 800 for stones sold as specimens and souvenirs and $2[illegible],100 for stones to be cut into gems Besides this gold quartz with an estimated value of $140 000 was sold for specimens and for ornaments and jewelry

Millstones—The trade in millstones of all kinds has decreased markedly from the introduction of roller mills The total value of the Esopus mill stones in New York and Cocalico stone in Pennsylvania did not exceed $100 000 in 1885

Grindstones—Estimated value of the product for 1885 $ [illegible]0 000

[illegible] With the exception of a local consumption of about 1000 tons in North Carolina the total production of phosphate rock came from South Carolina and amounted to 43[illegible] long tons of washed rock for the calendar year 1885 valued at $[illegible] at an average value of $[illegible] per ton

Gypsum The estimated production of land plaster in 1885 was 100 000 short tons of calcined plaster [illegible] tons total [illegible] valued at $[illegible] The above includes [illegible] tons from native stone the remainder being imported from Nova Scotia

Salt The total production in barrels of 280 pounds was [illegible] exceeding the yield of 1884 by [illegible] barrels The total value of all salt produced was $4 [illegible] an increase of $[illegible] which was due partly to the increased value of the Michigan product and partly to the large increase in the production of western New York

Bromine—The production increased slightly being about 310 000 pounds against [illegible] The total value at an average of [illegible] cents a pound was $[illegible] an increase of $[illegible] above the previous year

Borax Production limited to California and Nevada [illegible]000 pounds value at [illegible] cents per pound for concentrated $[illegible] While the product increased by 1 600 000 [illegible] fall in price lowered the total value by $10 000

Sulphur The production was only about [illegible]00 tons worth about $18 000

Pyrites At [illegible] long tons were mined valued at $[illegible] In addition [illegible] were imported

Barytes—The production was about [illegible] tons valued at $[illegible] [illegible] taken from the mines

Mica The production increased [illegible] but the value of the sheets [illegible] [illegible] pounds valued at $1[illegible] 000

TESTIMONIALS.

The following is from the Hon N Pierce, well known in Eastern Oregon

A CARD.

MILTON Or Sept 25, 1885

A sense of duty to those who may be similarly afflicted prompts me to make the following statement My son Henry, aged 14 years, was almost entirely deaf since quite a child, and having failed to obtain any help for him, I applied to Dr H J Smith, of San Francisco, who pronounced his case one of Catarrhal Deafness, and said he could cure his Catarrh and improve his hearing at least one-half He has only been under the doctor's treatment (at home) a short time and I find his hearing completely restored and Catarrh nearly cured N PIERCE.

MILTON Or, Sept. 29, 1886—I take pleasure in stating that, after the lapse of one year I find my boy Henry's, condition better than stated in my testimonial of one year ago

N PIERCE

Mr J A RICHARDSON, Justice of the Peace, Stone, Or, who suffered from tubercular deposit on the lungs, with asthma, resulting from neglected catarrh states "When I commenced your treatment I was scarcely able to walk, and in five days I was able to walk two miles, and now enjoy fair health and am confident that I should have been even better, had I not neglected your treatment as soon as I got better"

To those suffering from Blood, Nervous or other Chronic Diseases we would say that it is not our custom to resort to tedious effusions of testimonies to excite your fears in order to deplete your purse, but will simply say that we have made a thorough study of these classes of cases, and can cure them with dispatch [illegible] [illegible]
